

Accolades for Robert Kourik's previous self-published books:

Designing & Maintaining Your Edible Landscape – Naturally (1986)

Featuring 400 pages, 8 pages of full color, 103 line drawings, 65 charts & over 3000 entries in the index.

"An uncommonly valuable book."

Paul Hawken, author and businessman

Selected by Robert Smaus, the former horticulture editor for the Los Angeles Times, as

"...one of the nine most essential gardening books for West coast gardeners."

"Robert's knowledge is encyclopedic."

Rosalind Creasy, author, landscape designer

"Robert Kourik has produced a classic homemade book in the best sense of the term....massive, detailed, totally indexed, full of charts and graphs..." Richard Nilsen of the Whole Earth catalog.

Drip Irrigation for Every Landscape and All Climates (1992)

Featuring 76 Illustrations, 128 Pages and Fully Indexed

In celebration of its 25th anniversary, the Avant Gardener, a well-respected gardening newsletter, recognized for providing up-to-the-minute gardening for a quarter of a century, selected its "25 best Books of the Past 25 Years." High on the list, at number seven, was Kourik's Drip Irrigation for Every Landscape and All Climates.

"The last word on drip irrigation...infused with good humor."

Lynn Ocone, Sunset Magazine

"...sure to demystify drip irrigation for those of us who live on the soggy side of the Mississippi."

Roger Swain, Horticulture Magazine, The Victory Garden PBS

"The 'new bible' of drip." Peter Warshall, Co-Evolution Quarterly